

This lab is for the instrument characterization and integration of lidar transmitter/receiver. Identifying component modeling lab measurements and selecting component hardware is also a capability of the lab.